STATE OF FLORIDA

MILITARY DEPARTMENT

OFFICE OF THE ADJUTANT GENERAL

ST. AUGUSTINE

31 December 1950.

His Excellency, The Governor of Florida and Commander-in-Chief, Florida National Guard, Tallahassee, Florida

Sir:

Herewith is submitted the biennial report of the Adjutant General of Florida, pertaining to the administration of the Division of Military Affairs of the Executive Department for the calendar years 1949 and 1950, pursuant to the provisions of Section 250.10 Florida Statutes, 1949.

GENERAL

During the calendar years 1949 and 1950 the Florida National Guard has progressed greatly in strength, training, equipment, and administration. In this period it has served the State in the protection of person and property, aid to civil authorities and relief during storms and disasters, thus performing its State mission.

Detail reports as to organization, training, administration, equipment, fiscal accounting and duties performed are to be found in this biennial report under their appropriate headings.

It is believed fitting that the basic responsibilities of each echelon of government in support of the National Guard be repeated herein for the guidance of all concerned:

a. Counties and municipalities contribute personnel and participate in cost of armory facilities for their local units.

b. The State of Florida supports the administration, supervision of training, distribution of equipment, maintenance of armories, firing ranges, airbase facilities, cost of unit administration and funds for construction of armories, their maintenance and equipage.

c. The Federal Government issues to the State Military Department, on a loan and accountable basis, uniforms and equipment. It pays for corps of Instructors, permanent duty unit administrative and equipment maintenance personnel, armory drill and field training pay. Participates under Service Contracts in the operational maintenance costs of airbase, warehouse, maintenance shop and storage facilities.

The purpose for, and mission of, the National Guard is prescribed by the National Defense Act (U. S. Congress, 3 June 1916) as amended, and the Military Code, State of Florida (Chapter 250. Florida Statutes 1949), to provide in time of peace an organized military force, trained and equipped, under State control and directed by the Governor to enforce the Laws of Florida, preserve the peace, provide security of the rights and lives of all citizens and to aid civil authorities when there is resistance to the execution of the laws of the state. In time of war, or a declared national emergency, the National Guard is available to reinforce the Armed Forces of the United States upon orders of the President, or by direction of the Congress.

The attention of the Governor and Members of the Legislature are particularly directed to the recommendations that are to be found on page 27 of this report.

TRAINING

Objectives:

1. General. a. Quoting a document published by the National Guard Bureau, "When that 'Call' for mobilization comes, the National Guard must be not only ready but able." That has been the general training objective of the years 1949 and 1950.

b. In 1949 the Three Year Plan was placed in effect. It had as its objective the progressive training of individuals and units through a three year period to final objective that each man would be qualified in one MOS and the unit will have progressed to the point of being capable of carrying the burden of internal defense and limited combat upon mobilization.

2. Armory Training. a. 1949. The objective of Armory Training was to begin the implementation of the three years training plan by individual and unit basic instructors.

b. 1950. The progressing of the unit in its intermediate training and the preparation for mobilization.

3. Field Training. a. 1949. The training of individuals in familiarization of arms and the actual firing of artillery and small arms target practice.

b. 1950. Intermediate training of units to include limited field exercises. Firing of major weapons.

4. Weekend Training. a. 1949. This training was limited to small arms firing.

b. 1950. All small arms firing was to be completed prior to camp. Automatic weapons firing was to be completed prior to camp.

5. Staff Training. a. 1949. Staff training was not started.

b. 1950. Staffs of Battalion level and up to receive extra training through the use of drill period and weekends. Object of training was to parallel the three years program of individual and unit training with a staff training program that would give the units that efficient guidance from above that a well trained organization deserves.

6. School Program. a. 1949. To begin forming the pool of trained specialists so essential to the modern army.

b. 1950. To continue school training of required specialists.

Accomplishments:

1. General. a. The training has progressed through the first two years of the training cycle very satisfactorily and has confirmed the belief that a three year cycle was workable and highly valuable. The National Guard Training Program and Subject Schedules have proven highly beneficial.

2. Armory Training. a. 1949. Units began slowly to use the National Guard Training Programs and Subject Schedules. Training was somewhat handicapped by lack of Material, Manuals and trained Instructors.

b. 1950. Adequate material and fairly well trained instructors plus plenty of Manuals and NGTP's have brought army training to a high state of efficiency.

3. Field Training. a. 1949. Field training took place as follows:

Units	City	Dates
51st Division	Fort Jackson, S. C.	3-17 July 49
48th Division	Fort Jackson, S. C.	28 July to 7 Aug. 49
227th AAA Group	Camp Stewart, Ga.	10-24 July 49
159th Fighter Squadron	Eglin Air Force Base, Fla.	17-31 July 49

Basic subjects were covered and a large part of the period was used for small arms firing.

b. 1950. Field training took place as follows:

Units	City	Dates
51st Division	Fort Jackson, S. C.	13-27 Aug. 50
48th Division	Fort Jackson, S. C.	23 July to 6 Aug. 50
227th AAA Group	Camp Stewart, Ga.	2-16 July 50
159th Fighter Squadron	Hunter Field, Ga.	9-23 July 50

More time was available for field training because the small arms firing had in most cases been completed on weekends. The units showed great improvement on both individual training and the management of units in the field.

4. Weekend Training. a. 1949. The small arms firing during weekends materially aided the accomplishment of the Field Training Progress. Those individuals should have completed their firing during these periods.

b. 1950. The weekend periods during this year were used to great advantage in not only small arms firing but even artillery firing was conducted. These periods were well spent and did much toward training for a successful Field Training Period.

5. Staff Training. a. 1949. Preparations began for conducting of staff training during 1950. A few weekend staff conferences were held.

b. 1950. Staff training in all echelons stressed. Through the use of armory drill periods and many weekend conferences the staff of all Battalions and higher headquarters were brought to a higher state of efficiency and welded into a working train.

c. Weekend staff meetings:

Instructor Corps:

The United States Army and Air Force Instructors, Advisors and Sergeant Instructors detailed by the Department of the Army and Department of the Air Force to the Florida National Guard have given most valuable service and advice in the training of the Army and Air National Guard. These officers and enlisted men of the regular military establishment have at all times given unstintingly of their time and knowledge to the end that the Florida National Guard troops and air units are recognized as among the best trained units in the National Guard of the United States.

NATIONAL GUARD ARMORIES

1. General

- a. The Military Department together with the Armory Board of the State of Florida is charged with the supervision and control of all military buildings and real property within the State applied to military uses.

b. Upon induction of the National Guard into Federal service incident to World War II, there existed 26 permanent National Guard Armories within the State. After World War II, the National Guard was reconstituted and, due to the needs for National Defense, as well as the growth of the State of Florida, National Guard units were organized or reorganized in 50 different localities within the State.

Prior to World War II, the Florida National Guard consisted of 52 units with a total strength of 3,941 men. Today there are 94 units organized with a total authorized strength of 10,208 men.

It became necessary that improvised temporary housing be provided at 24 locations, most of these improvised facilities being unsatisfactory for National Guard purposes and not a credit to the Community or State. Of the 24 unsatisfactory locations, it is contemplated that the situation will be alleviated in Gainesville and Coral Gables thru the use of Federal facilities, and at Leesburg, where construction of a local Armory is planned.

Two of the improvised Armories are satisfactory, provided their continued use by the National Guard is not interrupted. This leaves a definite and urgent need for new and separate Armories at 19 locations within the State as shown on the attached schedule.

Of the 26 permanent Armories listed, 7 have become inadequate due to increase in units, personnel and equipment at their stations or to limitation of use of their Armory.

CAMP BLANDING MILITARY RESERVATION

The Camp Blanding Military Reservation consists of approximately 32,000 acres of State owned land and 25,000 acres of Federally owned land now under revocable permit and right of entry to the Military Department of Florida for maneuver and training purposes.

At Camp Blanding is located the State Maintenance Shops and Property Warehouse Center. The State Maintenance Shops receives, processes, repairs and issues all motor vehicles, ordinance and technical services equipment. The Property Warehouse Center receives, stores, classifies and issues all equipment not routed through the Maintenance Shops.

During the past two years, Camp Blanding has been utilized by many National Guard units in the State of Florida for week-end training. This training has been in the form of tactical maneuvers, rifle practice, Staff Command Post exercises and other Staff conferences. In addition to being utilized by the National Guard for training purposes, Regular Army units, Marine Corps units and Naval units have conducted small arms rifle practice on the rifle ranges of the Reservation, and the Navy is currently using one of the lakes as a bombing range.

In 1948 a cooperative working agreement was entered into by the Military Department and the Florida State Prison for the utilization of the Camp Blanding Reservation in the production of beef for use by State Institutions. The following letter from the Superintendent, Florida State Prison, gives the result of this program:

"State Quartermaster
State Arsenal
St. Augustine, Florida

"In reply to your request for information as to the value of the Prison and to the State of Florida of the use of the Camp Blanding pasture for grazing purposes, I have to say that our records show that for each of the two years just past we have kept upwards of 500 herd of beef cattle on the Camp Blanding property and have found that this has enabled the Prison to increase its beef supply for the prison kitchen about 20% and has laid the foundation for a further increase of beef production so that eventually the Prison will be in a position to furnish beef to the State Hospital and other State Institutions.

"You can understand that the cost of food for 2,000 prisoners would be increased greatly if it were necessary for us to purchase beef at prevailing market prices. Thanks to the cooperation of the Florida National Guard in permitting the Prison to graze its cattle at Camp Blanding, it has not been necessary for the Prison to purchase any beef at all for the past two years. That this is a considerable saving to the taxpayers is evident. As the herd increases, we will provide beef for other institutions and thus further reduce the cost of State Institutions to the taxpayers.

"The benefit to the National Guard in this proposition lies in the fact that the National Guard property is cared for, loiterers are not permitted to enter the property, fire is not permitted to damage timber and the buildings are protected from fire and deterioration so that in the event of an emergency the National Guard will find the whole property in good shape for immediate use.

"For two years this cooperation between the National Guard and the State Prison has worked perfect and furnishes an example of the benefit to two State Institutions by means of cooperation and mutual assistance.

"Trusting this information will be of assistance to you in providing the report you have in mind and with personal regards, I am

Yours very truly,

/s/ L. F. Chapman
Superintendent."

The Florida State Improvement Commission has, for the past several years, conducted all of their warehousing operations incident to the procurement and distribution of surplus properties to the educational institutions in the State of Florida from warehouses at Camp Blanding which are under the control of the Armory Board.

BUDGET REQUESTS

To furnish necessary administration, maintenance, unit fiscal support for the Military Department in operation of the Florida National Guard a Budget has been submitted to the Budget Commission for presentation to the 1951 Legislature, condensed as follows:

Purpose	Fiscal Year 1951-52	Fiscal Year 1952-53
Salaries	$137,325	$137,325
Expense	$212,675	$212,675
Total	$350,000	$350,000

EXPLANATION:

SALARIES—Employment of personnel performing administrative, maintenance, security, supply and operational duties.

EXPENSE—Purchase of services and supplies for the maintenance of armories and properties; statutory allowances to units and personnel; operational equipment, transportation and supplies.

This Budget and requests for appropriation is for the continued operational maintenance of the Florida National Guard at its present troop unit strength. In case of the Florida National Guard being inducted into the Federal Service, and war conditions exist requiring the organization of a Florida State Guard, it may be necessary to request additional funds for the support of the Military Department as provided for in Chapter 250.25, Florida Statutes.

FLORIDA STATE GUARD

The National Defense Act provides that when the National Guard of several states are inducted into the Federal service, the states are authorized to organize State Guard units, to carry out the state missions as prescribed for the National Guard, under orders of the Governor.

In the office of the Adjutant General plans have been prepared for the organization of the Florida State Guard, at such time as may be required by future events. This State military force will be commanded and staffed by the officers now assigned to State Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, officers of the State Guard Reserve and other qualified persons who have had prior suitable military service.

The initial State Guard will consist of:

State Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment

Five (5) Battalions (The Battalion Areas to coincide with the five Civil Defense Areas).

Thirty-six (36) Company units

Authorized Strength—Officers 207

Enlisted Men 2597

Aggregate 2804

The State Guard units will occupy armory facilities now under the control of the Armory Board and presently housing the Florida National Guard units. In that uniforms, arms, equipment, motor transport and maintenance of National Guard units is furnished by the Federal Government, it will be the responsibility of the State to bear the cost of these items for training, operation and administration of the State Guard. Any pay of State Guard troops for training, active duty or administration, will have to be provided by the State (Chapter 251. Florida Statutes 1949).

STATE GUARD RESERVE

In order that the training and experience gained by the officers of the Florida State Guard, during their service in World War II period, might be made available to the State in case of another major emergency, in March 1948 the Governor authorized the organization of the Florida State Guard Reserve as an inactive component of The Military Department, State of Florida.

One hundred and six former officers of the active Florida State Guard, from thirty counties, have indicated their willingness to again serve the State in time of emergency and are carried on the roster of the State Guard Reserve.

STATE CIVIL DEFENSE

Late in the calendar year 1949 the President of the United States, through the Department of the Army, requested the Governors of the States to effect an organization, under State authority, that would coordinate and direct the various community, state and federal relief and defense agencies in periods of emergencies and disasters caused by internal, external or natural forces.

The Governor, in January 1950, directed the Adjutant General, in cooperation with Chief, Florida Military District, as representative of the Commanding General Third Army Area, to prepare a Civil Defense Plan for the State of Florida.

A plan based on the authority contained in Chapter 249, Florida Statutes, was submitted to the Governor and approved by him on March 20, 1950. As the need for immediate organization for Civil Defense was recognized by the Governor, the State Defense Council was designated by Executive direction, the various State agencies provided equipment, supplies and funds so that by July 1950 a State Director of Civil Defense with suitable office and staff was functioning.

At the time of this report, the organizing of the citizens of every county in the State, for their own protection and security, is well underway. The Adjutant General considers the initiating, adoption of the Civil Defense plan, and its implementation, a major contribution toward the future security of the citizens of Florida.

SELECTIVE SERVICE SYSTEM

State Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, Florida National Guard, has in its Table of Organization a Selective Service Section with the mission of preparing a State Plan for the operation of the Selective Service System in Florida. The Report of the Adjutant General for the years 1947-1948, gives the details of the Selective Service Reserve and State Plan which made possible the rapid organization and prompt effectiveness of this Agency when it was activated.

This Section of State Headquarters continues to keep current on operational planning for the expansion of the Selective Service System to meet future National Mobilization requirements.

Officers of the Adjutant General's Staff are on duty with Selective Service and the State Director of the Selective Service System of Florida is Major General Vivian Collins, Florida National Guard, (Retired).

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. The appropriation by the 1951 Legislature of the requested funds for the continued support of the Florida National Guard and the State Military Department. (Chapter 250.17).

2. Approval of the Legislature of a contingent appropriation of $500,000 for the biennium, to provide for the construction of armories with matching funds to meet such contribution that may be made available by United States Government, Counties or Municipalities for joint financing of such construction. (A bill will be presented to the Legislature to provide for this contingency fund.)

3. That all State Officers and Agencies continue to encourage the cooperation of all employers in granting military leave to personnel of the Florida National Guard for participation in field training and emergency State duty, without prejudice to their normal pay or vacation status. (Chapter 250.48).

MARK W. LANCE
Major General
The Adjutant General.
